- 3) Use fully-charged devices: if possible, leave them on the charger for the whole duration of the exam;
- 4) If possible, use a laptop and not a computer in order to prevent being disconnected from the network due to electricity shortcuts and/or any similar problems.

Technical questions can be sent to support@ecolymp.org. Please mention your full name and country and provide a detailed description of your problem with screenshots.

Business Case

The Business Case lasts for two days:

- 1) day of preparation;
- 2) day of the presentation.

During the day of preparation, contestants may use any online and offline materials, but it is prohibited to contact other people for help. All teams submit their slides by 23:59 UTC, 29 July. No changes to slides are allowed after this time.

On the day of presentation, teams are divided into groups. Each group is assigned a separate panel of judges and a volunteer. The team is allowed to present from different locations but each team member should turn on the camera. The slides are broadcasted from the volunteer's computer. The control of the slides is given either to the volunteer or to one of the team members. Should the team choose the latter option, they are to discuss which contestant is going to control the slides via Zoom remote control function and indicate that to the volunteer when asked prior to the presentation.

The top team from each group is invited to the public Business Case Finals. In the Finals, teams are to present their solution again and be graded by a panel of judges.

Moderation

On 30 July, contestants and team leaders gain access to the solutions and grades for Economics. They can compare each solution to the grading parameters published in advance and prepare to discuss the marks with the Jury. On the same day, the Steering Committee launches a form to collect requests for moderation.

To help the Jury find the works of the contestants and to be able to reevaluate the marks given, we recommend to prepare the following information in advance:

- The contestant's name;
- Tasks, numbers of tasks to be reviewed;
- Grading parameters;

- Contestant's solution with the parts of the solution that were not evaluated in accordance with those parameters underlined.

Please note that the prepared information is to be used to aid the team's representative in the oral moderation process and cannot be submitted in writing.

On 31 July, representatives of teams present their arguments in defence of contestants' solutions before the Jury. The Jury members are distributed in several rooms in accordance with the number of moderation requests for each question and their specialization in particular questions.

Each team is given 20 minutes which can be spent in one or several rooms and can be devoted to the discussion of any number of solutions. The schedule of moderation is published on the day of the event once all the teams submit their requests. Each team will be assigned a particular entrance time based on their region (Asia — Europe/Africa — Americas).

The time keeper in each room will warn about the time limit and fix the result of reevaluation and the time spent in each room. It is strongly recommended to base the defence on the grading parameters that include strict rules on what mark should be set according to the text of the contestant's solution.

The grades will be updated on the platform by 31 June, 23:00 UTC.
